

The headteacher will decide the amount of time a pupil can be away from school, taking into account their attendance record.

Requests will not be granted in the following circumstances:

- Immediately before or during assessment periods
- When a pupil's attendance record shows any unauthorised absence for any reason
- Where a pupil's authorised absence record is already above 5 percent, for any reason

Lateness and truancy

Good attendance doesn't just involve being present in school – it also involves punctuality. You also have a responsibility to ensure that your child arrives to school on time, and stays in school during the day.

School doors open at 8.40am. All pupils are expected to be in their classrooms at this time every day. If pupils are not in their classrooms by 8.50am, they receive a 'Late' mark. Registers close at 9.15am. Any arrivals after this time is a unauthorised absence and will be marked as 'U'.

If the school believes a pupil is truanting, immediate action will be taken – this can escalate to penalty notices.

How can I help?

You can help in many ways:

- Encourage good attendance by making sure your child goes to school regularly.

- Take an interest in your child's school work.
- Make sure your child understands that you do not approve of absence from school.
- Support our school in our efforts to control inappropriate behaviour.
- Telephone the school before 8.30am each day of your child's absence, and keep us updated throughout the absence period.
- Cooperate with our school to make sure your child overcomes any attendance problems.
- Discuss planned absences with the headteacher and apply for permission well in advance.
- Only take your child out of school during term time where the absence has been authorised.

Attendance matters!

Don't underestimate the importance of 100 percent attendance. Even one day missed can have an effect on learning:

- 98 percent attendance means four school days missed
- 95 percent attendance means 10 school days missed
- 90 percent attendance means 19 school days missed
- 80 percent attendance means 38 school days missed
- Five minutes late each day means three school days missed

Please help us promote good attendance throughout our school – you really do play an important role.

If you'd like further information regarding attendance at our school, please see our Attendance Policy – downloadable from the school's website.

School attendance: what parents need to know

Tadley Primary School
Learning for Life

Why is good attendance important?

Good attendance and punctuality are vital for success at school, and to establish positive life habits that are necessary for future success.

Through regular attendance, pupils can:

- Develop life skills.
- Build friendships and develop social groups.
- Engage in essential learning and other school social events.
- Achieve to their full potential.
- Minimise the risk of engaging in anti-social behaviour and becoming victims or perpetrators of crime.

All parents should promote good attendance and work in partnership with their child's school to provide a cohesive approach.

What does the law say?

All children of compulsory school age – between 5-16 – must receive a suitable full-time education. As a parent, you are responsible for ensuring that this happens, either by registering your child at a school or by making appropriate alternative arrangements.

Once you have registered your child at a school, you are also legally responsible for ensuring that your child attends school regularly. If you fail to do this – even if your child misses school without you knowing – legal action can be taken against you by the LA. It is a legal offence to fail to ensure your child attends school regularly.

Under the new national framework, from August 2024, the fine for all school absences across the country will be £80 if paid within 21 days, or £160 if paid within 28 days.

In the case of repeated fines, if a parent receives a second fine for the same child within any three-year period, this will be charged at the higher rate of £160.

Fines per parent will be capped to two fines within any three-year period. Once this limit has been reached, other action like a parenting order or prosecution will be considered.

If you're prosecuted and attend court because your child hasn't been attending school, you could get a fine of up to £2,500.

Can my child ever be absent?

When a pupil is absent from school, this will be classified as either 'authorised' or 'unauthorised'.

The Governing Board and headteacher decide which absences are granted as authorised. Authorised absences are only permitted for valid reasons, for example:

- Illness
- Medical or dental appointments
- Religious observations
- Family bereavement

Wherever possible, parents should always try to arrange medical and dental appointments during school holidays or after school hours.

What are unauthorised absences?

Unauthorised absences are those which the school does not consider essential or reasonable.

Unauthorised absences can include:

- Forgetting school term dates
- Oversleeping
- Absences which have not been explained
- Arriving at school after the register has
- Leaving school for no reason during the day
- Truancy before or during the school day
- Keeping pupils off school unnecessarily or without explanation
- Day trips or family outings
- Problems with uniform/clothing
- Birthdays and holidays

Holidays during term time

The school cannot be expected to authorise an absence for a holiday during term time.

Taking holidays during term time means that pupils miss important school time – both educationally and for other school activities. It will be difficult for pupils to catch up on work when they return to school. Only in exceptional circumstances may a holiday be authorised during term time – this will be decided by the headteacher.

Exceptional circumstances do not involve cheaper costs, family availability or weather conditions.

You will be fined if you take your child on holiday during term time without permission from the headteacher.

Requesting absences

Authorisation of absences are at the discretion of the headteacher.

All absences, including for holidays, must be requested using our 'Leave of Absence' form as far in advance as possible – the minimum notice period is 10 days. If you think your child needs to be taken out of school, you should discuss the reasons with the headteacher as soon as possible.

If the headteacher is satisfied with the evidence and the notice period, they will authorise the absence. You will receive a letter in response, to advise if the request has been granted or declined.
